Immy Kaur - Impact Hub Brum, Co-Founder

Impact Hub is a place to collaborate and discuss, challenge and be challenged, provoke and be provoked; a place where paradox and contradictions can cohabit with ease. A platform where people can meet like minded creators and disruptors and where they can continually challenge themselves and others. Innovating around solving systemic challenges in our city and beyond.

Immy is passionate about new models of organising, bringing diverse, passionate and talented people together, creating unlikely collaborations and local change based on global innovations, networks and knowledge.

Sandra Green - Green Revolutions CIC, Director

Green Revolutions are working to cut the number of unnecessary car journeys and improve people's quality of life, by promoting greener and healthier forms of transport and operating a pay-as-you-go car club: Co-wheels Car Club Birmingham. Green Revolution's cars are all low emission, hybrid or pure electric, so their members can drive with a "green" conscience.

Sandra established Green Revolutions CIC in 2013, after working for Birmingham City Council for a number of years. Sandra is passionate about increasing travel options for people in transport poverty. Sandra believes that when people have the choice of not owning a car, they are open to other, healthier, transport options, like walking and cycling. This results in people feeling better connected to their local communities, which in turn have clearer streets and better air quality.

Steve Dixon - Changes UK, Founder & CEO

Since its inception almost a decade ago, Changes has been developing and delivering innovative, person-centred support for people seeking abstinent recovery from drugs and/or alcohol. Their approach to recovery has been developed by service users and is peer led.

A leading figure within the recovery community, Steve, an inspirational campaigner and an influential social entrepreneur champions the practice of peer support.
